Probation Is Granted To Burner of House

James Clark, 22, a Cherokee Indian, who set fire to his house at 7603 Hamilton Street last October and then rescued his son from the burning building, was granted seven years probation today.

Superior Judge Edward J. Tyrrell heard a report from the county adult probation officer and then granted the probation on condition Clark go to the Sonoma State Home for treatment.

Judge Tyrrell said that there was a previous commitment from the Juvenile Court for Clark to go to the hospital.
